

Biology B Slideshow Journal

In this ongoing assignment, you will create a slideshow journal using PowerPoint (or any other comparable app) covering the various topics we talk about in class.

Some topics you will have required information that you will need to display and others may be more open ended. In any case, by the end of the trimester, you should have a final presentation that you turn into me electronically.

Entry # 2: Body Systems

- Pick two (or more) body systems and create a slide that illustrates and explains how they work together to keep a body at homeostasis (use part 4 of the “Parts of a Body System” worksheet to help you)
